Miracle Hill to Open New Transitional House for Women in Gaffney

Gaffney, SC. January 17, 2023- In 2016 Miracle Hill Ministries started providing limited transitional housing for guests exiting their programs. Since then, the need for transitional housing has exponentially grown in the Upstate. With the construction of this new house in Cherokee County, the ministry would have 17 properties for people living in transition.

Miracle Hill transitional houses operate using principles that have been successful across the country, known as the Oxford House Model. Women living at this house will have continued support while they readjust to living productively in society. They will also remain close in proximity to jobs, transportation, outpatient services, and churches.

Transitional housing protects and enhances higher success rates by providing healthy, affordable community to those individuals seeking independence and stability. During the groundbreaking event held at the facility, the ministry's CEO, Ryan Duerk, highlighted that with this new addition, Miracle Hill will have the opportunity to serve a total of 120 individuals through transitional housing.

As the construction of this new project begins, a new entrance for the rescue mission will be in the works as well. Both projects are expected to be finished by the fall of 2023. Miracle Hill expressed its gratitude to the community and faithful donors for their support.
